Dear Parents,

Today was our fourth lesson in a series of lessons called Heartbeat. We learned more about David and how worship equipped him to fight the battles of life. This week's worship word is Zamar (to make music, to celebrate joyfully in song, to pluck the strings or parts of a musical instrument.)

We also have a new memory verse:

"The Lord is my strength and my shield; I trust Him with all my heart. He helps me, and my heart is filled with joy. I burst out in songs of thanksgiving." Psalm 28:7 nlt

One of the ideas we discussed today is that just as we gain skill in sports or school by practicing, so we learn to worship better by worshiping. Here are some other things you can discuss as a family this week:

- David developed his skills as a musician. What are areas you think God has gifted you?
- How can we strengthen those areas?
- How can you use those areas as ways to worship God?

If your child expresses interest in learning more about playing a musical instrument in worship, remember that N2Worship is coming again this summer in July. Kids in fourth grade and older can participate in this excellent program. Learn more at n2worship.org.

We look forward to being with your children again next week!
